5. Other Business

Mr. Kaiser explained the handout from NextEra's DEP application for Farmington Solar LLC, saying the major change from earlier maps was that the panel arrays planned on the Davis Road are gone, therefore most of the project was from the York farm east to the Hovey Road. He said the application may be submitted to the Town within a couple of months.

Discussion took place on the solar proposal.

Mr. Kaiser then went over the few changes made to the drafts of the Adult Use Marijuana Ordinance, Application, and Table of Uses. He stated the Zoning Board will review the Table of Uses and vote on it in mid-July at their Annual Meeting. We'll probably have hearings in late July on the drafts, and the Moratorium will end Sept 26th. Mr. Kaiser said the minor changes in the State law that passed on May 2nd were incorporated into our drafts, and the legislature has left Medical Marijuana alone for now, with no Home Rule oversight given to Town's yet in that regard. He said the legislature will wait until next year to deal with Medical Marijuana.

Mr. King said he was concerned about the legal costs for the Board on the Solar project, especially with Attorney Frank Underkuffler retired.

Mr. Kaiser suggested the Board should ask NextEra if they would pay for an attorney of the Town's choosing for counsel on the project and its decommission bond. He said it's in the applicant's best interest to do so as this legal advice will give the Board the assurances necessary for its thorough review.

Mr. Jordan said he heard the new clinic in Buzz Davis' building (140 Pleasant Street), Group, Inc., that was in a month or so ago, may be looking to dispense medications. An article in the Daily Bulldog recently stated they use therapy and medication to control and help those with opioid addiction.

Mr. Kaiser said they were asked several times in the application process if that was their intent and they always replied that they were only doing counseling there, with a doctor coming in a few times a week to write scripts for the clients to fill at a local pharmacy and no dispensing at that location.

Mr. King stated it is like the other mental health therapy places in town like Tri-County.

Mr. Kaiser said the company also stood here in front of the Planning Board and stated that it was only counseling - no on-site drug dispensing.

Mr. King asked if a letter could be sent out for confirmation of this.

Mr. Kaiser noted that chemical dependency clinics aren't allowed at that location and they were informed of this. He said because they stated there would be no dispensing, he would get this re-confirmed by them to be absolutely sure.

Mrs. McGraw brought up Town Line Tire on Philbrick Road, Farmington Falls, saying he has tires stacked all over, looking like a junkyard.

Mr. Kaiser said that he went out last fall to check compliance and spoke with Tim Seamon and his sister, and DEP went down last week to check compliance due to a neighbor complaint. He said the Planning Board did not put a limit on the number of tires he could have or required that all tires be on trailers, but I will soon be checking the site again.

Mr. King asked about the proposed Homeless shelter project.

Mr. Kaiser said he and Tim Hardy would be meeting architect Bill Hamilton at the Holman House next Tuesday to review and discuss the remodeling plans for the building, and life-safety and accessibility requirements.

Mr. Jordan stated he received an article from a concerned citizen, who understood that the church's intentions are good but worries about outsiders from away coming here because they heard about the shelter, and if there's no room for them where do they go from here? He used the example of the Preble Street Homeless Shelter in Portland that has caused major problems for its neighbors who are now trying to get it close down.

Mr. King said he's been researching the Board's role and responsibilities under State law for the community's health, safety, and welfare. He noted that the church would have a 10-year lease with the homeless outreach organization.

Mr. Kaiser said the Old South Congregational Church's website has information on their homeless shelter plans in their newsletters which shed light on their activities. He noted that the Police Department has been involved with the current homeless shelter, and there will need to be a continued police involvement with this new location. Mr. Kaiser said this is a prominent structure and location, and questioned whether a homeless shelter is the highest and best use of it. He noted that the shelter is only open from 4 pm – 8 am, which means there needs to be an extensive array of complimentary social services available to assist the occupants with housing, food, education, health, employment, etc. during the day when they're roaming around town.

Mrs. McGraw asked if they have been getting estimates.

Mr. Kaiser said yes, and another concern was about sustainability in terms of the long-term stability of State and federal funding sources on which homeless shelters depend.

Mr. King made a motion to adjourn the meeting at 7:03pm.

Mr. Smith seconded the motion.
