

Public Works Mechanic Town of Farmington

The Town of Farmington, Maine is currently accepting applications for the position of Lead Mechanic in the Public Works Department. The successful candidate will be responsible for maintaining the Town's vehicles and other mechanical equipment, supervising other employees when specifically assigned, maintaining records pertaining to repairs and maintenance, and formulating daily, weekly, and monthly work plans for proper maintenance of vehicles and equipment. Excellent communications and public relations skills are a must.

The Lead Mechanic's duties include maintaining and repairing all Town equipment and vehicles including, but not limited to, trucks, police cruisers, tractors, graders, rollers, loaders, backhoes, and other similar equipment. The Lead Mechanic may be called upon to assist with snow removal work and other duties as assigned. The Lead Mechanic also keeps records on equipment repair, scheduled maintenance work, and parts inventory.

Applicants for this position must possess a valid Maine Class A or B Commercial Driver's License; have at least a high school, tech school, or vocational school education; have experience with computer diagnostics; be willing to work outside, occasionally in inclement weather; be available for work as needed on nights and weekends and reside within 30 minutes of the borders of the Town of Farmington; and pass a pre-employment background check and drug screening. The successful candidate will also hold a State of Maine Class D Motor Vehicle Inspection License for light and heavy vehicles or be able to obtain the same within six (6) months of employment. Qualified applicants must have five (5) years of experience as a mechanic and extensive welding and fabricating experience.

Applications are available at the Farmington Town Office, 153 Farmington Falls Road, Farmington, ME 04938, or online at www.farmington-maine.org under Municipal Departments: Apply for a Job. Applications will be accepted until the position is filled. please send applications to Leia Durrell, Assistant Director, Town of Farmington, 153 Farmington Falls Road, Farmington, ME 04938.

The Town of Farmington is an equal-opportunity employer.